David
Sheff

David Sheff is the best-selling author of "Beautiful Boy" and an advocate on the US drug crisis, prevention and treatment of addiction. David is devoted to increasing availability of evidence-based treatment in addition to increasing supportive research to further the field of addiction medicine.

Jessica
Pettitt

Jessica Pettitt, speaker and author of "Good Enough Now," uses humor to bridge the gap between folks of very different backgrounds and values to facilitate respectful collaboration around diversity, equity, and inclusion. She connects with participants by using humor, real time concerns, and implementable action steps that continue beyond the stage.

Dr. Kevin
McCauley

Dr. Kevin McCauley is a former flight surgeon for the US Navy and Marines and founder of The Institute for Addiction Study, a center of research and training. His passion for the study of addiction as a brain disease fuels his advocacy for the rights of people who experience substance use disorders.

Dr. Douglas
Marlowe

Dr. Douglas Marlowe is a senior scientific consultant for the National Association of Drug Court Professionals. He has published over 175 journal articles, monographs, books, and book chapters on the topics of correctional rehabilitation, forensic psychology, and treatment of substance use disorders.
